

Strip the metal roof sheathing

Stone sills installed

Recycled bricks for the garage

Big yard for storage of materials

Cat in the garage (Don Heard) !

Landscaping

1843 Hemlock roof boards 13"

Big square nails held the roof boards, little ones for the shingles

Removing the overhangs & trim

Take them down section by section

17" board – corner detail

Peel off the front overhangs

Stabilize the end walls

Starting to get hot!

Old roof is completely off

Northwest corner

Roman Ruins!

No hat on the lady

End of my day, “J.C.” bids farewell

Perimeter walls being built

Addition side walls

The Duke (Dave) is very sweaty!

A forest of studs

Ridge board and first rafters go up

Inside & outside view - rafters

Tomorrow will be a big day (another one that is)

August 20 2008 6:14 am (taken from our back porch in Bayfield)

Setting all the rafters

House rafters are in place, hurricane clips installed.

Setting the ridge to the addition

Ridge board installed

Ready to join the two peaks

Everything well braced

Time to head home

View from the road

August 20 2008 - 8:22 pm (Across the street in Bayfield)

8:57 pm - afterglow

Jansen brothers repairing brick

Sheathing the front side 5/8" ply.

Pete Jansen building a chimney from a painting of the house

This would be the painting

Building the overhangs

Ladders on the other end

Space for the other chimney

Coming up through the roof

Lots of repair work to be done

Figuring out the valley

Taking shape!

Bricking the chimney cap

Working together

Curtis drives a Honda

End of the day, view from the road

North chimney is finished

North wall repairs finished

Starting the south chimney

Chimney up top, repairs below

Build and patch

Curtis wants fan mail

View from within

Above the stairwell

Cooler inside – outside is hot!

New chimney atop the old

A puzzle in lumber

Reclaimed brick for the garage

Neatly stacked, ready to go

The girls bring drinks for the boys

Curtis has a work station

That's it for this week (for us)

