

Caruso likes Stan's sweet corn!

---

Main house has plywood roof

---

J.C. gets very muddy

---

Scaffolding for the garage brick

---

Curtis getting things ready

---

Back of the garage

---

First courses of brickwork

---

Harry Jansen at the corner

---

Bricking down the sidewall

---

Chaotic mess to most, sorting and laying process to the bricklayers

---

Harry & Pete on the gable end

---

Most of the sidewall completed

---

Dave & Brad in the valley

---

It's a beautiful thing!

---

Front side entrance

---

Blocks of wood for the friezeboard

---

Harry bricking the back side

---

“Not that brick Curtis, the other one – not that one, the other one!”

---

On to the back wall of the garage

---

Shingling up the valley

---

Front door & sidelights

---

Taking apart the old entrance door

---

Piece by piece, take it apart

---

5" front door hinges

---

5 in stamped in the hinge

---

Removing the panels

---

Above the garage door opening

---

A raccoon has left a paw print in a brick back in 1843

---

North valley almost finished

---

Taking out the old concrete sill

---

Lots of colour in that brick!

---

Joinery, 1843 style

---

Not a Mosul & Charles brick, maybe a later repair

---

Mud wasp nests behind the trim

---

Mouse nest in upper corner – very neat rounded trim piece on jamb

---

All gone!

---

Higher and higher

---

Putting on the facers

---

Garage will be finished tomorrow

---

Look what I found in my travels!

---

Front & side are finished

---

The rear is finished as well

---

Mosul & Charles brick, 1843 for the house and same vintage reclaimed from another house for the garage.

---

Finish shingling on Monday

---

